

CHRIS & PETE COOKING DUO

<https://youtu.be/XgRsulO9vEI>

Biography One of them is a master comic who tries to cook, and the other a renowned celebrity chef, who's been known to crack the odd joke. Chris Forrest has been on the SA comedy scene since the late nineties, and Pete Goffe-Wood, best known as a judge on Masterchef South Africa, has been making great food for nearly 30 years.

When the two of them met on the set of Celebrity Masterchef SA, they found that they had a couple of things in common; one of them was the same dry sense of humour, the other was a liking for mouth-wateringly delicious food. After the filming of the series was complete they decided to do the logical thing and combine their respective talents to bring you a hilarious culinary comedy show, the likes of which have never been seen before in SA, which will have you holding your abs from laughter whilst drooling at the amazing cuisine before them.

Over the past year they created a very popular and successful web series for Jacobs Kriinung as the "Jacobs Coffee Magicians" which they followed up by travelling the length and breadth of the country doing activations at various expo's and events.

Perfect for a product launch, treat for guests or just something crazy and out of the norm, this duo will win over your hearts and your stomachs!
