

iMovie Making Challenge

BiographyLights! Camera! Action!

It's time for your team to create their own blockbuster. This fun, interactive event is designed for everyone, regardless of age, fitness level, or physical ability.

Embrace your inner Spielberg! Each team will collaborate to write, produce, direct, and star in their own themed movie. Equipped with an iPad and a "Movie Making Kit" filled with props and materials, teams will use their creativity and practical skills to bring their film to life.

Movie Making offers exceptional value—it's an afternoon filled with creative team building and entertainment. Once the movies are premiered, they provide great fun and a chance to see the team's hard work on the big screen. Plus, teams gain valuable content creation skills.

Awards can be arranged to celebrate various categories, often uncovering hidden talents within the organization. Options include producing a "mini movie" with a given title, an advertisement for a product, a news broadcast, or a weather forecast.

The event concludes with a popcorn movie night and Oscar awards where team talents are celebrated.
